

Dr. Aros Certified By American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons

Green Mountain Orthopaedic Surgery is delighted to announce that Dr. Brian Aros has successfully completed and passed the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons Exam.

In order to become board certified, the physician candidate must have completed training deemed satisfactory by the board, and then pass a series of examinations administered by the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgeons.

For an orthopedic surgeon to become board certified, he or she must pass both a written and oral examination. Candidates who are in a period of evaluation by the board are considered "board eligible" orthopedic surgeons.

Congratulations, Dr. Aros!
